ARARA 2008 Conference

Farmington, New Mexico

May 22 – 26, 2008

CALL FOR PAPERS

Abstracts Due March 15, 2008

PRESENTERS MUST REGISTER FOR THE MEETING

The American Rock Art Research Association will hold its 35th annual meeting May 22 – 26, 2008, in Farmington, New Mexico. The meeting location is the Farmington Best Western Inn & Suites.

The following categories of presentations will be considered. ARARA reserves the option of requesting that a Contributed Paper submission be changed to a Report or Poster in order to accommodate as many presentations as possible during limited conference time. It is strongly recommended that PowerPoint be used instead of slides. PowerPoint is the only digital presentation program available at the conference. (In the future ARARA will be moving to requiring that all presentations be PowerPoint.) Instructions on how to submit your presentation to the AV operators at the conference will be provided when the presentation is accepted. Due to space limitations, presenters are limited to one senior authorship, but there is no limit on junior authorship.

1. Contributed Papers offer the results of field and/or laboratory research. These papers can include site descriptions, but they usually present a compilation of information into newly formulated ideas or conclusions. They may be historical in nature and present an overview of previous research, but usually they are more comparative in content (maximum of 15 minutes in length with 5 minutes for questions).

2. Reports are descriptive papers with information on newly discovered sites, new dates for sites or images, or new ideas for recording sites. They offer an opportunity to present new information on a rock art site or sites or a new way of thinking about rock art topics (maximum of 9 minutes in length with no time for questions).

3. Posters can be either descriptive or comparative. They are set up as a display with illustrations and text that describe and discuss the topic and/or the results of the research. Poster papers are the best way to engage in one-on-one discussions with viewers and exchange ideas (set up for half-day with scheduled times to be at your poster for contact with viewers).

You must designate the presentation category on your abstract submission. All abstracts will be reviewed by a program committee and accepted or rejected by April 1, 2008. Current ARARA members will be given preference.

E-MAIL IS THE PREFERRED METHOD OF SUBMITTING YOUR APPLICATION because this saves the program committee time by allowing your information to be pasted into the program with no retyping. Your submission will be confirmed by e-mail as soon as possible.

E-MAIL all required information using this form as a guide. AN E-MAIL FRIENDLY VERSION OF THIS FORM is available on the ARARA web site, www.arara.org, for use in sending the required information. Copy and paste the form into the body of an e-mail, fill in required information, and send to:

ARARA2008@cox.net

Deadline: March 15, 2008

If it is not possible for you to submit by e-mail, please mail a hard copy of this form to:

ARARA 2008 Conference Field Trips: General Information and Instructions

Greetings from Terry Moody (Colorado Springs) and Gary Hein (Santa Fe), field trip coordinators for the 2008 ARARA Conference. Thanks go out to Jim Copeland with the Farmington BLM Office for organizing most of the field trips and providing the descriptions below, as well as to Jane Kolber for offering a special field trip to Chaco Culture National Historic Park. Appreciation is also extended to the Northwest New Mexico Site Stewards for participation as trip leaders, as well as many others for offering to share sites they have been involved with documenting or monitoring for a number of years.

Archaeological sites are fragile resources; therefore, field trip capacity will be limited to 15 to 20 participants. Field trips are offered on Friday, May 23, and Monday, May 26. Fourteen field trips have been organized with 257 participant slots available. Most, but not all, of the sites are at ground level in the bottom of canyons and require little or no climbing to access. Roads are maintained dirt oilfield roads—4-wheel-drive is not absolutely required to get around, but is strongly recommended. A good high-clearance vehicle such as a 2-wheel-drive truck or other SUV-type vehicle will work. With the exception of the Chaco and B-Square Ranch field trips, cars are not really a viable option. The road to Chaco Culture National Historical Park is a maintained county road that can become difficult to travel during inclement weather.

Review the Field Trip Offerings listed below. Detailed information is included in this information packet and posted at www.arara.org. The Field Trip Registration Form is included in this information packet, and an E-Mail Friendly version of this application with instructions for filing is posted on www.arara.org. Follow the instructions on the forms to register for field trips via e-mail or by mailing the paper form. Field Trip registration must be received by May 12, which is the Conference pre-registration deadline. After the selection process is completed, applications received after May 12 will be assigned to any remaining field trip spaces on a space-available basis. If you wish to receive trip confirmation, follow instructions at the bottom of the form.

To register for field trips, please keep the following in mind:

Groups (family and/or friends) submit one registration form only. Groups wishing to be on the same field trip should coordinate with a lead person who will submit a group registration. The lead person of the group (the one who submits the group registration) only will receive confirmation of the field trip assignment, and will in turn inform all members of the group. Be sure to list your trips in preference order.

14	20	Gobernador, San Rafael, and Four Mile Canyon Areas	All Day
95		Total Trip Slots

Other pertinent information regarding the field trips:

1. PLEASE NOTE that ARARA holds no responsibility or liability for those participating in conference field trips. Attendance at a pre-trip orientation meeting is required by all field trip participants, where a completed liability waiver and medical consent form will be turned in. Each trip roster will be finalized upon completion of waiver and consent forms by participants. Pre-Trip Meeting is Thursday evening, May 22, for Friday Field Trips. Pre-trip meeting for Monday field trips will be announced at the conference.

2. Four-wheel-drive vehicles may be required, and car-pooling is recommended.

3. Many of the field trips may involve hiking, minimal to strenuous, through rough terrain with substantial brush where one may encounter creatures such as rattlesnakes, so be sure to pack appropriate footwear, hiking clothes with a jacket for that sudden rainstorm, a hat, and sunscreen. Don't forget your camera. Participants are responsible for bringing along plenty of water to ensure healthy hydration.

4. Box lunches will not be coordinated by ARARA—plan to provide your own lunch, snacks, and drinks.

Last but not least: if your plans change and you cannot attend your confirmed field trip, inform Gary Hein via e-mail (glhein@comcast.net) or phone no later than May 20. If a last-minute cancellation of your trip occurs, please call Terry Moody (cell: 719-648-9174) or Gary Hein (cell: 505-699-2885).

Field Trips for the ARARA 2008 Annual Meeting

Farmington, New Mexico • May 22 – 26, 2008

Field Trips will take place on Friday, May 23, and Monday, May 26

APPLICATION DEADLINE IS MAY 12. YOU MUST BE PRE-REGISTERED FOR THE CONFERENCE BEFORE YOU WILL BE ASSIGNED TO A FIELD TRIP.

Complete this form for each individual or individuals wishing to participate jointly or in a group (limited to four individuals). Provide names of all individuals to be registered as a group. List one person as a group contact. If assignment of a group to a field trip results in a total exceeding the number of available spaces, the group will be assigned to the next available space on its preference list.

ARARA 2008 Conference Field Trips

GREETINGS from Terry Moody (Colorado Springs) and Gary Hein (Santa Fe), field trip coordinators for the 2008 ARARA Conference to be held in Farmington, New Mexico, May 22 – 26, 2008. Fourteen field trips have been organized with 257 participant slots available, and most trips are available on both Friday, May 23, and Monday, May 26.

Thanks go out to Jim Copeland with the Farmington BLM Office for organizing most of the field trips and providing the descriptions below, as well as to Jane Kolber for offering a special field trip to Chaco Culture National Historic Park. Appreciation is also extended to the Northwest New Mexico Site Stewards for participation as trip leaders, as well as many others for offering to share sites they have been involved with documenting or monitoring for a number of years.

The road to Chaco Culture National Historical Park is a maintained county road that can become difficult to travel during inclement weather.

Descriptions of the Field Trip offerings are included here, and are posted on the ARARA web site, www.arara.org. Field Trip participants must be pre-registered for the 2008 Conference. Field Trip registration must be received by Gary Hein by the May 12 Conference pre-registration deadline. The Field Trip Registration form with instructions is included in this 2008 Conference Information Packet. Watch for updates on Field Trips and pre-trip orientation meetings on the web site and on ARARA Online.

If you are interested in assisting as an ARARA Field Trip co-leader, please e-mail your willingness to do so to Gary Hein at glhein@comcast.net or Terry Moody at moodytp@msn.com. Duties will include checking in participants listed on the Field Trip Roster, carrying the First Aid Kit, assisting if an emergency arises, and making certain that field trip participants arrive at and leave the field trip sites with the group.

ARARA Field Trip Offerings

1. and 10. Jesus and Delgadito Canyon: Friday, May 23, and Monday, May 26 (all-day trips). Participants: 15 each day. Travel is about 80 miles round trip from Farmington. The rock art is primarily of the Navajo Gobernador Representational Style with a little Anasazi (aka Pueblo) to round things out. During the trip at least one Navajo defensive site dating to the 18th century will also be observed, in direct association with rock art. Both petroglyphs and pictographs of outstanding quality will be observed, including animals, supernatural figures associated with traditional Navajo origin history (Yé'ii), and a star ceiling.

2. Bi Yaazh and Four Yé'ii: Monday, May 26 only (all-day). Participants: 15 (no children). Travel is about 160 miles round trip from Farmington. These sites include pictographs and petroglyphs, primarily of the Navajo Gobernador Representational Style. Bi Yaazh possesses some of the most elaborately decorated Navajo supernatural beings (Yé'ii) in the area, and has many unique features not seen at other sites in the area. It is also the scene of one of the most egregious rock art thefts in northwest New Mexico and has been featured in several magazines and film spots. Bi Yaazh is a rugged but not overtly dangerous climb to a narrow ledge and not for the faint of heart or those with a fear of heights. Four Yé'ii panels also require a scramble up steep but short talus slopes to access.

3. and 11. Crow Canyon (National Register District): Friday, May 23, and Monday, May 26 (all-day trips). Participants: 20 each day. Travel is about 80 miles round trip from Farmington. Crow Canyon was listed on the National Register in 1974 and possesses hundreds of images, primarily of the Navajo Gobernador Representational Style with a little Anasazi to round things out. The canyon contains numerous panel locations, including one requiring a relatively easy 2-mile round trip walk. Images of supernatural beings (Yé'ii, some only found in Crow Canyon), animals of many forms, corn plants, and Spanish soldiers on horseback will be observed. Two Navajo defensive sites dating to the 1700s will be viewed from a distance.

4. and 12. Largo and Cibola Canyon: Friday, May 23, and Monday, May 26 (all-day trips). Participants: 20 each day. Travel is about 100 miles round trip from Farmington. Largo Canyon is the major canyon in the area and has been used as a route of travel for thousands of years. A number of panels along the Largo Canyon road will be visited, culminating at Cibola Canyon. Images are primarily of the Navajo Gobernador Representational Style with a little Anasazi to round things out. Images include the type site for Navajo star patterns in petroglyph rock art as well as the type site for the Twin Navajo War Gods.

5. and 13. Encierro Canyon and Carrizo Canyon: Friday, May 23, and Monday, May 26 (all-day trips). Participants: 20 each day. Travel is about 100 miles round trip from Farmington. This is a collection of sites including Navajo Gobernador Representational Style and images of the Navajo era most likely crafted by Pueblo people, not Navajo. Most images are petroglyphs but pictograph shields adorned with painted eagle feathers are among some of the most striking images. Supernatural beings (Yé'ii) as well as the area's only example of a parrot pictograph will be seen as well. One panel will require a short steep climb to access a narrow ledge but it can be easily viewed with binoculars from ground level.

6. and 7. B-Square Ranch: Friday May 23, two half-day trips. Participants: 20 each trip. Travel is about 10 miles round trip from Farmington. These are rock art panels located on the B-Square Ranch situated on the south side of Farmington. The rock art dates from Late Archaic/Basketmaker to Chaco-phase and post-Chaco-phase Anasazi to early Navajo time periods. Two of the rock art panels are along the bluffs on the south side of the San Juan River while the other panels are in Stewart Canyon, a major tributary of the San Juan River. Elements include trapezoid-shaped figures, spirals, geometric or textile designs, animal figures, humpbacked flute players, and a wide variety of anthropomorphic figures.

8. Chaco Culture National Historical Park: Friday, May 23 only (all-day trip). Participants: 12. Travel is about 130 miles round trip from Farmington. This is a rare opportunity for ARARA field trip participants to travel off trail to see some of the most interesting rock art made by the great Chacoans (aka Anasazi, Pueblo). The tour will include up to 8 sites, none of which are open for public visitation, and many sites are known to only a few. All sites are fairly easy to access, with walks of not more than a mile and scrambles up sandy talus slopes.

9. and 14. Gobernador, San Rafael, and Four Mile Canyon areas: Friday, May 23 and Monday, May 26 (all-day trips). Participants: 20 each day. Travel is about 150 miles round trip from Farmington. This is a collection of sites including Navajo Gobernador Representational Style, images of the Navajo era most likely crafted by Pueblo people, and Anasazi. It will also include the only example in Diné'tah of what may be Ute rock art. Most images are petroglyphs but pictographs will be observed as well, including a large figure holding a shield adorned with eagle and parrot feathers, and a set of anthropomorphs at times referred to as the "Pregnant Basketmaker." Access will require short easy walks.

Places to Go, Rock Art to See, and People to Meet!

ARARA members will be traveling from near and far to arrive in Farmington on Memorial Day weekend to attend the 35th annual conference. Routes to the Southwest are numerous, and may take the road traveler across several states. As many are aware, and some will pleasantly discover, these roads lead to some extraordinary archaeology. Therefore, plan a few days or more if you have the luxury of exploring the many archaeological places along the way, some of which have public rock art to visit. Most importantly, the roads also serve as gateways to visit regional Native American communities, many of which have museums and visitor centers that illustrate the past and present cultures that have lived in the Southwest, and many with connections to the ancestors who left their marks on the rocks. A list of public archaeological sites and historic and cultural centers with nearby city and URL information is provided below, on the ARARA web site, and on ARARA on-line.

VENDOR INFORMATION

ARARA 2008 CONFERENCE

Farmington, New Mexico
May 22 – 26, 2008

As with previous conferences, we are asking those interested in vendor tables to apply for a table in advance by completing the Vendor's Application Form. Vendor regulations are summarized below.

The Vendor Area will be secured at all times.

Space for the Vendor Area is provided to further the educational goals of ARARA and to promote distinguished use of rock art imagery in arts and crafts. The Vendor Committee manages a juried process of allocating vendor space. In reviewing vendor applications, the committee will strive to meet the tangible points of the criteria listed below and the intangible goal of artistic excellence. The decision of the committee is final.

Criteria for the allocation of vendor space:

1. All items in the Vendor Area must be related to rock art.
2. All vendors must be members of ARARA.
3. First preference will be given to non-profit organizations whose goals are consistent with those of ARARA, provided their materials are related to rock art.
4. Priority will be given to those vendors selling educational materials, i.e., books, monographs, research reports, videos, CDs, software, and related educational materials.
5. Arts and crafts spaces will be allocated based on a juried competition that considers the type of product, the range of prices, the quality and artistic merit of the work, and the ethical or appropriate use of rock art imagery.
6. Vendors are asked to donate the higher of $25 per table or 10% of their gross sales to help defray the costs of providing the vendor space.
7. Vendors are expected to follow the rules as established by the Vendor Committee. These include observing the posted times when vending is permitted and ensuring the security of the Vendor Area.
8. ARARA may choose to provide complimentary vendor space for informational purposes to companies introducing new products and technologies that are deemed to be of interest to the membership.
9. Late applications will be evaluated only if space remains available following the initial review and award process.

The American Rock Art Research Association encourages artists to take ethical responsibility when rock art images are incorporated into their work. ARARA encourages artists to show respect for the cultures of Native Peoples. Artists are encouraged to sign, date, and label their works incorporating rock art images. ARARA encourages artists to accompany their work with educational material and general provenience whenever it is exhibited or vended.

Application Process: Please complete the Vendor Form and submit it with a deposit of $25, which will be applied toward your sales commission. Make checks payable to ARARA. Send your completed application and deposit to the address on the form by May 12, 2008.

First-time Vendors should also submit a product portfolio (clear photographs, product brochures, or other supporting material) and any additional supporting documentation you think will help the Vendor Committee reach its decision. Vendors accepted for space at ARARA conferences since 1996 need not include a portfolio with their applications—please indicate that your portfolio was reviewed and accepted in 1996 or later. Please include a stamped, self-addressed envelope if you want your materials returned.

Questions may be directed to Barbara Murphy at (520) 881-4185 or by e-mail to Sharon Urban at <shurban@heg-inc.com>
